▼ Summary

I'm Pedro, a Dutch/Brazilian, born in Oman but raised throughout the world, giving me a breadth of cultural experiences.

Recently graduated from The Hague University of Applied Sciences in User Experience Design. Currently, my spare time consists of me honing my Front End Development and Game Design skills.

My personal strengths include the development of interactive designs, though I'm confident in my skills in other areas.

My long-term goal is to design and publish my own game.
